Prince Mohammed University launches NEW English Language Institute (ELI)more details

This new technology driven, interactive English language training center will include a blended approach of instruction that mixes Computer Based Training (CBT) with laboratory/classroom interactive experiences. This approach will assure that a broader range of English instructions will be provided for more people in shorter amounts of time.

PMU's Goal:

Provide the best English Language Programs that develop English Learning as a "Skill", and help adults and children enhance their career and education.

Around the world, these CBT courses have been proven to hold students' attention for the time necessary to facilitate language acquisition.

The innovative instructional design that is used is significantly advanced over traditional textbook-based language instruction, particularly at lower proficiency levels.

ELI's multi-modal, skills-based approach is in line with the findings of neuroscientific research and is supported by extensive, real-world experience.
