

August 16, 2008

4th Annual Women's Global Leadership Conference in Energy and Technology

PMU was represented at the “4th Annual Women’s Global Leadership Conference in Energy and Technology,” held in Houston Texas, USA on November 13-14, 2008. Dr. Zlatica Kraljevic, PMU Dean of Institutional Relations, was invited as a speaker and moderator at the Opening Plenary Panel Session on “Climate Change and How it May Affect Global Industries.” Panelists included senior researchers at U.S. universities, and senior executives at Shell Oil and CenterPoint Energy Company. The conference was sponsored by PricewaterhouseCoopers and Gulf Publishing and attracted near 1,000 female participants. Dr. Kraljevic is also a distinguished member of the advisory board of the Womens’ Global Leadership Conference in Energy & Technology.